WAS CAUGHT IN GRAVEL CAVE-IN

Walter Heeb, of Near Glenwood, Painfully But Not Fatally Injured

WAS ALMOST SMOTHERED

Other Workmen Lost no Time in Digging Out the Unfortunate Victim

While several workmen were excavating in a gravel pit on the O. W. Pike farm, three miles south of Glenwood, this morning about 10 o'clock, one side of the pit caved in and Walter Heeb, one of the men engaged in removing the gravel, was caught beneath several tons of the gravel bank and painfully if not seriously crushed. The other men escaped injury.

An alarm was sounded and the men who gathered lost no time in removing Mr. Heeb from his perilous position.

He was carried to the home of Mr. Pike and physicians were immediately summoned. The extent of his injuries cannot be determined, as he may and probably did, suffer internal injuries. His entire body was bruised and three ribs were found to be broken.

BALLOON DESCENDS IN SHELBY COUNTY

Big Black Bag Lit on Pete Hoop's Farm Near Boggs-town

The "St. Louis," Stevens balloon No. 21, one of the big flyers entered in the international balloon race starting from St. Louis next Monday, landed near Boggs-town, Shelby county, at six o'clock Friday morning after spending twelve hours in the air in a preliminary test. The balloon was named by Pilot Alan Hawley, of New York, and August Post, secretary of the Aero club of America.

HORSE'S HOOF CAUGHT WHILE CROSSING I. & C.

Farmer Was in a Tight Place and Horse Was Seriously Injured

As John Petty, living on the Rushville pike between here and Connersville, drove over a crossing on the I. & C. traction line Friday, his horse's hoof wedged in between two pieces of timber which formed a part of the crossing, and the driver was not able to get the horse loose. It was almost time for an east bound car and Mr. Petty grew desperate. At last his efforts combined with that of the horse, succeeded and the hoof was loosened from the gap, but in doing so the hoof and leg were seriously bruised and torn.

GLENWOOD SCHOOLS HOLD A SUCCESSFUL FESTIVAL

The Glenwood schools cleared over thirty-five dollars at their festival in the United Presbyterian church in Glenwood last night. Patrons of the festival spent a most enjoyable evening.

RUSHVILLE SINGER HAVING MANY CALLS

Homer Cole, the Chorus Leader, Accepted Call in Meeting at Wheeling, W. Va.

Homer Cole, the soloist and chorus leader, who has become quite a favorite with the church going people of Rushville, has been called by a Wheeling, W. Va., church to take charge of the singing during a revival which will start in that city next month.

Mr. Cole has accepted the call and will leave November 12th for that city. He and his brother closed a revival at Bentonville a few weeks ago, which was very successful.

Mr. Cole has a call from a church at Buffalo, N. Y., and also one from Wilmington, N. C., for a series of meetings later in the season. He will possibly take up evangelistic work later as a permanent vocation.

PREPARING ROOM FOR BASKET BALL

Work on the Gymnasium Room at Graham School Progressing Rapidly

The work on the gymnasium room which is being done by the high school at the Graham school building, is progressing nicely. Prof. J. H. School, city superintendent of schools, is personally in charge of the work and in fact is doing the greater part of it.

The windows have all been screened and the room will be ready for basket ball in a few days. One trapeze has already been installed, with others to follow. The room will be equipped with dumb bells, Indian clubs and several different kinds of trapezes, which tend to develop physical manhood.

The room which is being equipped was formerly the auditorium, where the dedication services were held a few weeks ago.

The local high school foot ball team is donating the proceeds of the gate money they receive in their games with other cities to buy the equipments for the gymnasium and every one should encourage our boys by attending these games.

ADOPTED BROTHER OF TILLMAN WRITES HERE

Thomas R. Lambert, of Charlottesville, writes to the Daily Republican for information regarding the death of John Tillman, the harness maker, who died suddenly at the Grand hotel and was buried in the potters field a few days ago. Mr. Lambert says he is an adopted son of Tillman's mother.

HERE'S WHERE THE FUN COMES IN.

A local pessimist was heard to give vent to the following on last Sunday—the millinery openings being held the previous week:

"Ladies should take off their hats in church. No preaching can inspire a man who is looking into a lopsided aggregation of dead birds, stuffed weasels, chameleons, skirts, ribbons, beads, sticks, straws, corn tassels and thistle down. It makes a sinner feel as though he were lost in the wilderness."

LOCAL INVESTORS NOT BIG LOSERS

But Get-Rich-Quick Scheme Rakes in a Cool Thousand and Here

LOSERS ARE WELL-TO-DO

And are "Well-Done"—They Did Not Get to Cut the Cards on This Deal

Between $800 and $1000 was lost by Rushville people in a race track betting scheme known as the Oargill Company of Columbus, Ohio. The men who lost the money here are all well-to-do (and are also "well-done") and can easily afford to stand the loss. It will teach them a valued lesson. And it is the best money they ever spent: tuition in the school of experience.

The story going the rounds to the effect that thousands of dollars was lost here is without any foundation. Several thousand dollars was invested from Rushville, but most of the investors received more in dividends than they invested.

Some of the stockholders have been getting a weekly dividend of from $1.50 to $6.50 on an investment of $100. Those who were in on the ground floor have profited by their investment. It is like the suckers that go to the baited hole early in the morning, who eat their fill and swim away.

Having some one bet your money on a race track and then declare a weekly profit (generally a "weakly" profit) is one of the boldest of the get-rich-quick schemes; one has to sit too far away from the dealer and you never get to cut the cards.

One good turn done a would-be investor in Rushville this week, was the returning of a two hundred dollar draft he sent last Monday.

The mails were never used by the Oargill Company or its patrons, all the business being transacted through the express companies, even to the writing of letters of inquiry.

"I have actually made arrangements to have my Oargill stock framed. With it will be the circular letter announcing its failure, and the frame will be black," said a prominent Oargill stock buyer today.

"And what will be your purpose in that?" he was asked.

"Well," he said, "I am going to hang the frame on the wall and when a faker comes in, I'll point to it and say: 'I have graduated; there is my diploma.'"

SAYS DAILY REPUBLICAN IS IN THE FRONT RANK

The Greenfield Star says: "The Rushville Daily Republican announces that on next Monday the paper will be enlarged to eight pages and many new features will be added. The paper is acknowledged by ALL newspaper men to be in the front rank of small city newspapers."

CHILD OUTWITS FATHER.

Sometimes small children surprise "older heads" in the many ways they devise to "work" their parents. Sometimes it is by a cry, sometimes a beg, but little Miss Janet, the four-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. D. H. Dean, outwitted her papa yesterday in order to get a ride in the automobile by a different plan. While the doctor was preparing for a trip to the country the little girl wrapped her self snugly in a robe and hid in the back part of the machine, and not until the physician stopped at the office did he discover that he had a passenger. Suffice say the father was rather amused when he found the trick was on him.

The east-bound limited I. & C. car No. 310 in charge of Conductor Charles Brown and Motorman Frank Keely, ran aground at the traction station curve in this city at 9:50 this morning.

The front trucks of the car were derailed and ploughed into the ground to the axle. The derailling was caused by gravel on the track. The car was delayed about thirty minutes.

It is a coincidence that this is the same car which struck a log wagon on Sexton street a few weeks ago, which was in charge of the same crew.

CHILD HAS A NARROW ESCAPE

Mother Found Her Little One Enveloped in Flames—Painfully Burned

WENT AFTER HER PET

While Mother Waited Outside—Clothes Caught on Fire From Open Radiator

Axine, the little nineteen months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dickman, of Buena Vista Avenue, had a narrow escape from being burned to death this afternoon.

The child's mother had just finished dressing her, preparatory to going shopping and was just getting ready to leave the house, when the little one sent up a cry for her Teddy bear.

The little tot returned to the second room after her pet, and had been in the room but a few seconds when the mother heard her give a scream of anguish. She rushed into the room to find her little one enveloped in a mass of flames. Her dress had caught fire from an open radiator, and one side of her face, part of her body and one hand was horribly burned.

Dr. Wooden was summoned and attended the unfortunate little tot. He is of the opinion that the burns are not serious and will not necessarily leave a scar on the face as the burns are not deep.

Only the cool headedness and manner of the mother's heroic efforts saved her daughter from being burned to death.

MERRY KING OF HA! HA! IS HERE

Book Agent Who Looks Like Andrew Carnegie is a Character Study

BOYS CALL HIM JAY BIRD

Goes About the Streets Whistling and Smiles People Out of their Money

If you have been around town for the last week or two you have surely noticed a happy-go-lucky elderly gentleman who goes about the streets whistling. He never whistles any particular melody or tune—he just whistles. And he is a character.

The small boys know him and they have dubbed him "Jay Bird". But to a grown up this would seem a bit unbecoming, for the fellow has an aristocratic air and carries himself in a dignified manner, and if you would call him any thing, (to be friendly) you would probably hit off on the appellation "Colonel."

He is a book agent. One of the many and varied types, and of the silk stocking variety. He has a fund of good stories and jokes and a reserve fund of nerve, the pure and unadulterated. One of these fellows that laughs at his own jokes with you, making them all the better. He can give four measures of the heartiest laughs you ever heard.

"Say, Colonel, you remind me a great deal of Andrew Carnegie," said a representative of this paper to the elderly book agent today.

"Well sir, folks do say I resemble the canny old Scot a great deal. I was in Pittsburgh four weeks ago tomorrow and attended the base ball game there. They played a double header, and I left at the conclusion of the first game. As I walked down the amphitheatre some small boy hollowed out, 'There goes Carnegie,' and pon my word that whole stand was up and cheering in a minute. I took off my hat and bowed my appreciation as I strutted off."

"A few days later I was riding on a street car in that city and I noticed a man sitting next to me was very nervous; wanted to say something to me. Finally he bolstered up enough courage and said: 'Say, you don't know how much you look like Mr. Carnegie.'"

"I turned on him suddenly with a frown on my face and said: 'Why d— it, I am Mr. Carnegie.' The fellow got off at the next stop."

"What is your name, Colonel?" the reporter asked.

"Ball," he replied, "b-a-l-l, ball; full brother of Base, Foot, Cod Fish and High Ball." And then with a merry laugh, the Whistling King of Ha! Ha! sauntered away.

Mr. Ball lives at Indianapolis, where he has a family of ten children that live on the profit of their father's laugh; for he laughs people out of their money.

The revival at the Main Street Christian church begins tomorrow with the Members Day service in the morning to which all members have been asked to be present and all friends of the church will be made heartily welcome.

The music at this service will consist of an anthem and response by the quartet and Mr. Frank M. Charlton will sing a solo entitled "Is Nothing to You?"

Rev. R. W. Abberley will preach on "The Ideal Church" and a great day is expected.

Tomorrow night, the first evangelistic services will be held and the pastor will preach on the master subject of the Bible, namely, "The Diet of Jesus." Mr. Charlton's solo will be "A Clear Heart."

A big chorus has been organized and the music will be a very special feature at all the services. The chorus will sing a special number at the evening service.

LAND OF PLENTY

With Our Persimmons, Paw-paws and Nuts

The frosts of the past few mornings have caused the hickory nuts and walnuts to begin beating 'tato as they drop to the ground when a good stiff wind shakes the trees. Local grocers say they have had the promise of a new crop of hickory nuts and walnuts this week or next. The crop is said to be better than in former years, but it is not overly large because the hickory and walnut trees are gradually being trimmed out. Persimmons are about ripe and some have already been brought in. Pawpaws are also ripening and some of the new crop has already made its appearance on the local market.

DRINKS BIRTHDAY BOOZE AND "SEES" BALLOONS.

A flock of wild geese passed over this city last night about midnight, squawking on their way South on their migrating flight. The large air lights attracted the geese and they would fly within a few feet of them.

One old belated "rummy," who was celebrating another fellow's birthday, insisted that the "squawk" heard was the fog horn "honk" of one of the balloons on the international race.

"What do you know today?" If you are a man about town, a city or county official, a physician or lawyer or a man who usually "knows something" this is the salutation you will often get from the reporters of the local papers.

"Oh, I don't know anything," said a fellow yesterday, "and if I did I would be afraid to say anything about it. You fellows make a mountain out of a mole hill."

GOVERNOR STANDS PAT

Steadfastly Refuses to Sign Vincennes
University Bonds.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 19.—The trustees of Vincennes university are arranging to bring suit to determine whether or not the state shall issue $120,000 in payment of its debt to the institution as authorized by the recent legislature. Governor Hanly steadfastly refuses to attach his name to the bonds. Without his signature they cannot be issued, and the university is being deprived of the money. Governor Hanly vetoed the bill authorizing the issuance of the bonds in payment of the old debt to the university. The legislature passed the bill over his veto, but he then refused to sign the bonds when they were presented to him by Auditor Billheimer. The question of whether or not a suit to mandate the governor to sign the bonds could be maintained has been discussed, but action along that line will not be attempted. The governor is said to be willing to have the supreme court determine whether or not the legislature could authorize the bond issue under the circumstances. He also maintains that the state paid its debt in full to the university when it appropriated $10,000 for it in 1895.

James Wade Emison, the well-known Vincennes attorney and politician, will shortly become an avowed candidate for the Republican nomination for lieutenant governor if he listens to the appeal of his associates in the Second district. He was here yesterday in company with Joe Barr of Bruceville, Second district chairman, who said that much pressure is being brought to bear on Emison to get him into the race. "We are for Emison down our way," he said. "We want him to get into the running right away. Our part of the state will support him loyally, and we believe that he can obtain the nomination." Emison had no statement to make regarding his attitude, but he is thinking over the matter very seriously and is inclined to be a candidate. He is said to be a fine campaigner, and the party workers in his section insist that he would lend strength to the ticket. He expects to make up his mind definitely within a short time whether or not he will be a candidate.

Thos. R. Marshall of Columbia City, who is being urged for the Democratic nomination for governor and who, many believe, will be nominated, will be the guest of honor at a smoker given next Wednesday night by the Indiana Democratic club. Mr. Marshall has not announced that he will be a candidate, but he proposes to discuss political conditions in the state at the smoker that will indicate how he stands.

LOOKING INTO IT

Grand Jury Investigating Alleged Asphalt Frauds.

Indianapolis, Oct. 19.—The Marion county grand jury has taken up the investigation of the fraud in the books of the city inspectors of asphalt street repairs. Blaine H. Miller, city engineer, was the first witness called.

It is understood that Mr. Miller told the grand jury of the discovery of the falsified record and of the changes in the figures that he had found. It is said that he also pointed out many of these altered figures, as well as numerous instances where patches enumerated on the inspectors' books were larger than were put in the streets.

It is also understood that Miller told the grand jury that he notified the Western Construction company, the contractor for this work, of his discovery, and that when he asked for an explanation from Harry P. Brunaugh, who was in charge of the repair work for the company, Brunaugh admitted to him that he was responsible for the changes.

It is understood, now that the grand jury has taken up this matter, that it will pay little attention to anything else until the street patching frauds have been thoroughly sifted.

A "NEAR" PANIC

New York Stock Market In a Condition Bordering on Demoralization.

A RUTHLESS SLAUGHTER

Values Tumbled So Precipitately
That the Situation Bore Close
Resemblance to Panic.

Absence of Big Semi-Professional
Speculative Plungers Is Noted
on the Street.

New York, October 19.—The fall in prices in some stocks Friday equalled that in some of the panic periods of the past. The market was at times in a condition bordering on demoralization. Conditions at no time, however, slipped into actual panic, although there was a ruthless slaughter of values that bore a close resemblance thereto. At no time, however, was the whole list embraced in the slump. There were points of comparative resistance throughout, but these grew less as the day progressed and the weakness spread throughout the market. Another feature of the market compared with the slumping periods of the past was the comparatively small volume of the trading, dealings for the day rising but little over a million shares, compared with two million to over three million shares in similar periods of past markets. This is the result of the retirement from Wall street for many months past of some of the big semi-professional speculative plungers, whose manipulative tactics made up much of the total of great days in the past. The knowledge of this fact has fostered a supposition that marginal holdings of stocks had diminished to unimportant proportions. The experience of the past few days goes to correct this impression. There was a brief experience of cheerfulness after the market opened, when prices advanced slightly and hopes were entertained that the cut in the dividend on Amalgamated Copper had been discounted in the trading Thursday and that the announced solvency of the Mercantile National bank, after investigation by a clearing house committee, had removed that subject from the realm of disturbing factors. This short-lived gleam of sunshine was the last of it that was seen during the day. Prices rallied feverishly at times in the pauses in the liquidation, but there was no feeling of confidence at any time that the purging process was yet completed. The weakness at first was pretty closely confined to the copper stocks. The condition of the copper industry was given responsibility for this for a time, and a continuance of the decline in the price of copper indicated that the point of effective demand had not been reached yet. With the prospect thus afforded of a possible complete shutdown of production by the Amalgamated properties and the recollection of the successive reductions which occurred in the dividend on the stock in 1903, the disposition to get out of holdings seemed to be general. It was evident that urgent pressure on the part of money-lenders was a factor in the crash in American Smelting, and the forced liquidation in that stock was associated with the cleaning-up process going on amongst the banks. It was an inkling of the fact that the clearing-house authorities were discussing the affairs of some other banks that caused the general weakness in stocks. The knowledge of this fact deprived reassuring statements on the subject of their effect. The objective point of the efforts of the clearing-house authorities becoming more defined, however, and, restricted to the field of newer activities in banking on the part of forces generally recognized for lack of conservatism, a better impression of the situation gained some foothold. Restricted as was the field of readjustment sought in the banking situation, however, the fact that the banking position was under criticism at all had its usual grave effect on confidence, and was the sufficient explanation of the disquiet painted in the record of the day's stock market. The grain markets also reflected the scaling down of credits employed in speculation. Some influence was attributed to reports that Thursday's Hamburg failure was more important than was at first supposed, this presenting so close a parallel to the local situation as to appeal to sentiment. The German bourses, however, were not seriously disturbed. The strong return of the Imperial Bank of Germany was regarded with satisfaction. Call money loaned at the stock exchange as high as 10 per cent, but this was regarded as due to discrimination between borrowers and collateral rather than to any greater tightness in the money market. Estimates of the currency movement showed the movement still away from New York on balance, but it did not appear that this would be more than, if so much as the gain of $3,170,000 by the banks on sub-treasury operations. The closing tone was weak and unsettled, in spite of the considerable rally of the last hour.

The international peace conference at The Hague has come to an end.

AN OCEAN COLLISION

Great Disaster Averted by Staunch Compartment Bulkheads.

Vancouver, B. C., Oct. 19.—In a dense fog the Canadian Pacific steamer Tartar, from Vancouver, for Hong Kong, collided with the Canadian Pacific steamer Chatter, from Victoria, for Vancouver, off the San Heads light at the mouth of Fraser river. The Chatter struck the Tartar squarely on the port bow, cutting through the Tartar's plates and crumpling the Chatter's bows. Both vessels began to fill, but the compartment bulkheads kept them from sinking. The ships started back to Vancouver, after the Chatter's passengers had been transferred to the Tartar.

Won the Lahm Cup.
St. Louis, October 19.—Swinging through the atmosphere at a speed roughly estimated at twenty-two miles an hour, the United States signal corps balloon No. 10, in which J. C. McCoy and Captain Charles DeF. Chandler ascended here Thursday evening, passed over Illinois and Indiana that night and across Ohio yesterday, and at nightfall landed near Point Pleasant, W. Va. The distance covered, on a straight line measurement, is approximately 500 miles and the voyage won for these aeronauts the Lahm cup.

Fatal Accident at Lathe.
Mishawaka, Ind., Oct. 19.—Brooks Schreff, aged eighteen years, while operating a lathe in the plant of the Dodge Manufacturing company, failed to watch the file he was applying to the casting, with the result that the tool was hurled back against his abdomen. The handle of the file was split, and the steel pierced his intestines and the stomach. The young man died in a short time after the accident.

Seven Murdered By Yaquis.
El Paso, Oct. 19.—Four men and three women, one of the former being a government mail carrier, were ambushed and killed between San Jose De Hila and La Colorado, east of Hermosillo in the lower Sonora country by Yaquis. The killing was discovered a short time afterwards by a party of American mining men who were traveling over the trail with a escort of Mexican soldiers.

Dr. Fowler Returns From the North.
Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 19.—Dr. W. M. Fowler of this city, who has been physician and surgeon to the Walter Wellman polar expedition for the last two summers, has returned. He will make his home here for the winter. He does not know whether there will be another expedition next year or that he will again be a member of the party. Dr. Fowler spent six months in the far North.

Lodge Not Taken Seriously.
Boston, Oct. 19.—In a letter to Mayor Fitzgerald the finance commission refused to summon Senator Henry Cabot Lodge that the senator might explain his speech before the recent Republican state convention, in which he criticized the city administration. The commission states that such action would commit it to a policy of investigating political rumors.

TRIED TO KILL HIMSELF

Huntingburg Banker Used a Revolver When the Sheriff Came.

Huntingburg, Ind., Oct. 19.—E. R. Brundick, former cashier of the People's bank at this place, attempted to commit suicide here last night. He was arrested by the sheriff on charges of perjury and for receiving deposits after the bank was in an embarrassed condition. When placed under arrest he excused himself for a minute, saying he wanted to go into the adjoining room, and while there he pulled a revolver from his pocket and shot himself in the temple. He is in a critical condition. He was formerly mayor of Huntingburg and one of the best-known men in southern Indiana.

Standard Oil Hearing Adjourned to Give Counsel Chance to Inspect Evidence.

WILLIAM G. ON THE STAND

Treasurer of Giant Company Is Called on to Explain Those Loans to Outside Interests.

Brady Is Recalled to Give Further Details of Sale of Manhattan Oil Company.

New York, Oct. 19.—William G. Rockefeller, assistant treasurer of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, testified in the government's suit for the dissolution of the oil combine, that the Standard was a heavy lender of its surplus funds in Wall street, for which it obtained the prevailing rates of interest. Mr. Rockefeller made this declaration when asked to account for the loans of $32,000,000 made by the Standard Oil Company of New York in 1906 to "interests other than the Standard." Of the $20,000,000 loaned to P. S. Trainor by the Southern Pipe Line company, Mr. Rockefeller said he had no knowledge.

ANTHONY N. BRADY.

Anthony N. Brady, who has interests in traction and gas companies in New York and Chicago, was recalled to give further information regarding the sale of the Manhattan Oil company of Ohio. Mr. Brady said that the People's Gas Light and Coke company of Chicago had sold the Manhattan Oil company to the General Industrial Development company of London, for $615,363 and a contract with the Standard to supply the People's Gas Light and Coke company for ten years. The London company assumed $800,000 8 per cent bonds of the Manhattan company. Mr. Brady said it had previously developed that the People's Gas Light and Coke company had paid $1,950,000 and assumed the $800,000 bonds for the Manhattan.

"Then as a matter of fact the People's Gas Light company sold the Manhattan for $615,363 and a contract for which they gave assets valued at $1,300,000. What did the Standard get for that contract?"

"Yes, that is so," replied Mr. Brady, "but I don't know what the London company paid to the Standard for the contract which the People's Gas Light company received." Mr. Brady was then excused.

After several statements concerning the business of the Standard's pipe lines had been placed in evidence, an adjournment of the hearings was announced until Dec. 2, in order that counsel may have time to inspect the evidence.

COLLEGE SENSATION

Young Theological Student Shot a Classmate During Recitation.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 19.—Lewis M. Wilson, a student at the Eureka college theological seminary at Eureka, Ill., yesterday afternoon shot John Walsh, a classmate, during the assembling of the class for recitation. Wilson fired a revolver pointblank at his victim, the bullet lodging in Walsh's neck near the jugular vein.

Walsh's condition is serious. Thursday afternoon Wilson challenged Walsh to a fight, which was refused. Wilson purchased a revolver of a hardware dealer and practiced target shooting on the college campus just prior to the convening of the class. Walsh's home is at Sydney, Australia. Wilson comes from a small town in Missouri.

Teddy Got His Bear.

Stamboul, La., Oct. 19.—President Roosevelt at last has shot a bear. He brought down the quarry at the end of a four hours' chase, and its black pelt now hangs in front of his tent as his first trophy of the chase. The animal had been chased for half a day by Ben Lilley and a negro assistant, who followed close upon the heels of the hounds. It fell after the first shot, which was planted just back of the shoulder. The animal weighed 375 pounds, which is considered large for bears in this vicinity.

A HUGE TASK

Counting of Proxies Delays Illinois Central Meeting.

Chicago, Oct. 19.—The meeting of the stockholders of the Illinois Central railroad was again postponed, this time until 2:30 this afternoon. No action of any kind was taken yesterday. The delay was caused by the inability of the committee on proxies to present its report. The checking up the proxies is a task of such huge proportions that it is uncertain when the committee will be able to make report. When the stockholders met at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, the committee had only reached the letter "H" and at that had considered merely the domestic proxies. None of those received from abroad had been touched. F. S. Conway, who is acting as chairman of the proxy committee, was hopeful, though, and informed President Harahan that it was possible for the committee to get through by this afternoon. He could not say positively, however.

It was officially announced by President Harahan that John J. Mitchell, president of the Illinois Trust and Savings bank of this city, will be Mr. Harahan's candidate for the directorship now held by Mr. Fish. The delay in reaching a vote on the election of directors has caused many of the small stockholders to abandon the meetings. Not over fifty were present at the meeting today, and large numbers of those who attended the opening session have already left for their homes.

BRAVE FONTANET

Work of Reconstructing Stricken Town Begins in Earnest.

Fontanet, Ind., Oct. 19.—The survivors of the terrible powder mill explosion of Tuesday are thankful for the relief that is pouring into this town from surrounding cities and villages.

Money and food is coming in from many points. When Governor Hanly announced that he had received an order to draw on the DuPont company for $5,000 for the relief of the injured, it made good feeling among the people of this stricken town. Terre Haute has sent large financial aid and Indianapolis has done a good part toward the sufferers.

The work of reconstructing Fontanet has begun in earnest. Mechanics from all the surrounding towns are coming in to help with the work, and material is arriving on every train. It is estimated that it will cost the company $40,000 to rebuild and repair the residences in the town and $50,000 more to repair the business buildings. In the destruction of the plant the company sustains a total loss of about $120,000.

REPORTS CONFLICTING

The Trade Situation in General Is Rather More Irregular.

New York, Oct. 19.—Bradstreet's weekly review of trade today says: Trade, crop and industrial reports are rather more irregular. Interest as to distributive trade has now largely passed from the wholesale and jobbing branches to retail trade, the development of which will be closely scrutinized. So far reports are conflicting, being best in parts of the Northwest, Southwest and South and relatively slackest at the East, which needs sharp, cold weather. Jobbing business is fair as a whole, house trade being quiet, while filling-in orders vary. The money stringency is an additional feature which attracts attention, affecting as it does, collections. As to collections, it may be said that holdings of crops has been a subject of complaint from several points.
